JULY 26, 2020

Friends,

Sunday, August 2, we celebrate communion. We will consider what it means for us to be the body of Christ. The sermon will be unlike any sermon I have preached for you before. On the back page of the announcements you will find a recipe for communion bread.

Monday, August 10 at 7:00 we begin a new series called “Beguiled by Beauty: Cultivating a Life of Contemplation & Compassion.” This was inspired by the book of the same name by Wendy Farley, PhD, which lays out a theology of beauty that can lead us to greater compassion through spiritual practices of contemplation. Dr. Farley is a well-known theologian (www.wendyfarley.org) and a professor of spirituality at the Graduate School of Theology at the University of Redlands, home of San Francisco Theological Seminary. We are deep into a pandemic and while summer bursts out all around us, death and economic suffering are prevalent. It is difficult to imagine how to comprehend both simultaneously. Dr. Farley’s work does just that. She helps us understand that faith in Divine Goodness is held together with suffering in order to make moments like this manageable. She shows us how a more intentional spiritual practice can deepen the well from which we draw in order to survive, and to thrive, during the trying times of our lives. The order and feel of worship might be somewhat different than what you have been used to. I invite you to join me as we explore new ways to be God’s people.

THEOLOGY ON TAP We all know the joy of a surprise gift, good news, or a great achievement -- all of those things eliciting feelings of gratitude. But these days, full of grief, worry, and uncertainty do not easily nurture a sense of thanks. Indeed, they seem to be gnawing away our hearts and our hopes.

So what of gratitude now? When we don't feel grateful? In a 6-part course based on her recent book, Grateful, Diana Butler Bass takes us into a journey to understand what gratitude is, how it can strengthen us as individuals and in community, and the surprising ways in which it subverts hopelessness and injustice. In addition to lectures and mini-practice sessions, Diana will be joined by other writers in conversation about how giving thanks has made a difference in their own lives.

In this course, we will:

- ⇒ Explore the definitions and structures of gratitude, and how what we think about gratitude shapes our actions;
- ⇒ Learn practices of gratitude that open us to new levels of awareness and awakening;
- ⇒ Discover the power of collective gratitude practices for your community or organization;
- ⇒ Understand gratitude in relationship to difficult circumstances and injustice; and
- ⇒ Uncover how gratitude becomes the soil for genuine creativity for individuals and communities.

This on-line course is free but requires you register, here is the link: <http://bit.ly/GratefulGroupReg>. You may begin watching the videos and can join us on Monday evenings, beginning August 10. You need not be a member of RPC to join us.

LITTLE FOOD PANTRY NEWS — Canned food (especially meat products) and monetary donations are always needed and welcome. Thank you!

Communion Bread Recipe
Roti (Buttery Indian Flatbread) - makes 6 roti

Ingredients

- 2 cups bread flour or all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- 2/3 cup water
- lots more butter, for frying

Instructions

1. In a large bowl, sift or whisk together flour and salt.
2. Add melted butter and mix in with a fork until flour is crumbly.
3. Mix in water until the dough pulls together.
4. Turn dough out onto a lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 minutes. Optional: Cover and set aside for 45 minutes.
5. Divide dough into six equal parts. Form each part into a round.
6. Roll out each round as thinly as possible; dust with flour if necessary to keep from sticking.
7. Set a griddle to high heat, or if you are using a frying pan, set the stove a couple notches above medium heat. When the pan is hot, use a spatula to spread about a half teaspoon or so of butter on the pan. The butter should melt immediately.
8. Transfer very thin roti dough to the pan. Wait about 6 or 7 seconds, then flip the roti over. You may need to add more butter; if there is not enough, the roti will not be soft. Roti will cook in 30 to 50 seconds. You will know it is done when light brown spots appear on the side that is cooking.
